ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY FELLOWSHIP

Are you a young public policy professional interested in learning about the localization process of the Sustainable Development Goals and Environmental Policy in Israel?

Application Deadline: 05.11.2018

Environment and sustainability constitute policy fields that are pivotal to securing the future of humanity and require international dialog, coordination and collaboration.

Against this backdrop, the Israel Public Policy Institute (IPPI) offers young professionals from Germany a unique opportunity to work alongside Israel's leading environmental policy makers to promote the implementation of the 2030 Agenda and its Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in Israel.

Selected Fellows will be integrated into the work of the Israeli Ministry of Environmental Protection (MoEP) and the Heinrich Böll Foundation Israel (HBS Israel) to develop policy solutions and identify leading international and regional trends while drawing on best practices and challenges with respect to the implementation of the SDGs from around the world.

Fellows will have a chance to work with high-level professionals and have a meaningful impact on the future of environmental policy-making in Israel. In addition to their work with the Ministry and HBS Israel, the Fellows will complete a policy paper that focuses on a common environmental challenge in Israel and in Germany.
